Printing metals in ultra precision

OUR SERVICES

APPLICATION STUDIES

When using new technologies, it is often necessary to evaluate the technology for specific applications and to make component-specific optimisations. We offer tailored application study packages to meet all kind of requirements supporting your engineering process.

APPLICATION STUDIES

With our application studies we offer you the possibility to qualify our technology for your application and to optimise your prototypes. Thereby we help you to accelerate and improve your engineering process.

OPTIONAL FEATURES

- design optimisation
- measuring
- metallography
- elemental analysis
- joining of assemblies
- post processing

... and more special features
